Who We Are

In 2009, during the economic crisis, Ed Gutierrez, Jerry Stewart and Lydia Zantout had a vision. Their vision afforded them the opportunity to take advantage of the difficult economic climate and stimulus funding activities to begin, what will be, the best Construction Management and Contracting firm in the DFW Metroplex. One accomplishment that defines who we are, and sets us apart from the rest, is that our first year in business we had a million dollar revenue base and a profitable year. JEA/CMAC goal is to see a 20% increase on this accomplishment each and every year for the next five years. Our quality workmanship, organizational skills, and ability to satisfy our clients along with our Core Values have made us a success.

JEA/Construction Managers and Contractors, LLC (JEA/CMAC) is recognized for it's ability to envision a finished product and communicate that vision with the client early in the project.

We offer the services of licensed Professional Engineers and Registered Professional Land Surveyors along with technical and administrative support personnel. Safety is the most important part of the construction process. The Core Value practiced by JEA/CMAC is that, at the end of the day ALL employees, contractors, and subcontractors return home to their families. We value our employees, contractors, and subcontractors. "A life is a terrible thing to waste." Among our committed staff, we have over a century of combined experience in the areas of planning and development, engineering, and construction.

JEA/Construction Managers and Contractors is committed to providing quality services and customer satisfaction. Realizing that projects require coordination with many different crafts to obtain a completed facility or project. We have a method of assuring tasks remain organized and on schedule.

Quality ~ Efficiency ~ Satisfaction
